

Fold here and stick the two halves of the postcard together

You can draw or add
your own
picture to the front of
postcard.

A large rectangular box representing a postcard template. A vertical line runs down the center, indicating the fold. On the left side (the front of the postcard), there is a small rectangular box in the top-left corner containing the text "Place stamp here". Below this box are four vertical lines, and further down is a horizontal line. The right side of the box is completely blank.
